InMotion Global TMS Again Garners Food Logistics Top Award

Logistics Leader Selected as one of the Country's Best TMS Providers

Saint Petersburg, FL –September 10, 2013

Food Logistics has once again selected InMotion Global TMS® for its annual list of Top Third-Party Logistics Providers. Food Logistics' resource directory of 3PLs includes leaders in the industry whose products and services are critical for companies in the food and beverage supply chain, from food growers, producers and manufacturers to retail grocers, convenience markets and others.

Tim Higham, President and CEO of Interstate Logistics Group said, "To receive this award year after year is such an honor. It is validation that our company is achieving excellent service levels that are recognized by our customers and business partners. Our focus is to stay in front of the trends and to utilize our patent pending InMotion Global TMS® technology in every aspect of our business to provide the unrivaled service that our customers have come to expect. I credit our amazing team here at Interstate with our ongoing success and I know that their hard work will continue to bring us even more of these types of accolades in the future."

"This year's list reflects the growing diversity of 3PLs and cold storage providers operating in the food supply chain, who are adapting to changing demands from their customers and end consumers alike. Food safety and security is one such demand, as are energy efficiency and controlling costs," noted Lara L. Sowinski, editor-in-chief at Food Logistics. "Whether the 3PL or cold storage provider is a small, specialized player or one with international reach and resources, the companies we've included for 2013 share a commitment to providing measureable value and industry expertise to their customers."
